the company may offer to assist the director by indemnifying him or her against costs incurred in successfully defending a claim for breach of duties owed to the company. Do I have any other responsibilities under the Companies Act 2006? The Companies Act 2006 imposes an array of other obligations on you as a director. Some are personal in nature and are specifically addressed to the directors. Others arise from the responsibility of the directors to ensure that the company carries out its obligations (where both the company and the directors may face liability in the event of a failure).
