Narrative and Media applies contemporary narrative theory to media texts, including film, television, radio, advertising and print journalism. Drawing on research in structuralist and post-structuralist theory, as well as functional grammar and image analysis, the book explains the narrative techniques that shape media texts and offers interpretive tools for analysing meaning and ideology. Each section looks at particular media forms and shows how elements such as chronology, character and focalisation are realised in specific texts.

As the boundaries between entertainment and information in the mass media continue to dissolve, understanding the ways in which modes of story-telling are seamlessly transferred from one medium to another, and the ideological implications of these strategies, is an essential aspect of media studies.
Narrative and Media

Helen Fulton
with
Rosemary Huisman
Julian Murphet
Anne Dunn
Contents

Figures and tables viii
Contributors x
Acknowledgements xi

1 Introduction: the power of narrative
   Helen Fulton 1

Part 1 The basics of narrative theory 9

2 Narrative concepts
   Rosemary Huisman 11

3 From structuralism to post-structuralism
   Rosemary Huisman 28

Part 2 Film as narrative and visual mode 45

4 Stories and plots
   Julian Murphet 47

5 Narrative time
   Julian Murphet 60

6 Narrative voice
   Julian Murphet 73

7 Point of view
   Julian Murphet 86
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author(s)</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Novel to film</td>
<td>Helen Fulton</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Film narrative and visual cohesion</td>
<td>Helen Fulton</td>
<td>108</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Part 3 Television: narratives and ideology 123</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>The genres of television</td>
<td>Anne Dunn</td>
<td>125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>Television news as narrative</td>
<td>Anne Dunn</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>Aspects of narrative in series and serials</td>
<td>Rosemary Huisman</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td>Soap operas and sitcoms</td>
<td>Rosemary Huisman</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Part 4 Radio and print journalism 189</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>Structures of radio drama</td>
<td>Anne Dunn</td>
<td>191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td>Radio news and interviews</td>
<td>Anne Dunn</td>
<td>203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>Print news as narrative</td>
<td>Helen Fulton</td>
<td>218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td>Analysing the discourse of news</td>
<td>Helen Fulton</td>
<td>245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Part 5 Popular print culture 269</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td>Magazine genres</td>
<td>Rosemary Huisman</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19</td>
<td>Advertising narratives</td>
<td>Rosemary Huisman</td>
<td>285</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
20 Conclusion: postmodern narrative and media
Helen Fulton 300

Glossary 307
Bibliography 313
Index 320
Figures and tables

Figures

2.1 Peirce’s triadic understanding of the sign
2.2 Differences of voice
16.1 ‘Media will pay for trial collapse’ (Guardian (UK), 16 September 2004)
16.2 ‘Garon! You’re slow, surly and at last you’ve admitted it’ (Guardian (UK), 16 September 2004)
16.3 ‘Town living in fear over mining deal’ (Sunday Telegraph (Sydney), 29 August 2004)
16.4 ‘Roosters claim NRL minor premiership’ (Daily Telegraph (Sydney), 6 September 2004)
17.1 ‘Americans see war as mistake’ (Weekly Telegraph (UK), 29 December–4 January 2005)
17.2 ‘Pregnant women urged to take iodine’ (Sun-Herald (Sydney), 5 December 2004)
17.3 ‘Moving forward . . . riot police charge pro-independence demonstrators outside the Basque parliament’ (Sydney Morning Herald, 1–2 January 2005)
18.1 Cover of Who Weekly, 8 October 2001
18.2 Cover of New Idea, 6 October 2001
19.1 Advertisement: Giorgio perfume (Australian Women’s Weekly, October 2001, p. 93)
19.2 Advertisement: Schwarzkopf Extra Care (Australian Women’s Weekly, October 2001, p. 75)
19.3 Advertisement: Chrysler car (Australian Women’s Weekly, October 2001, p. 9)
Tables

2.1 Cortazzi’s transcription of the most typical narrative structure ........................................ 25
3.1 Lévi-Strauss: paradigm and syntagm in the myth of Oedipus ............................................ 34
3.2 Storyline and plotline ........................................................................................................ 37
3.3 Genette’s set of categories for analysing narrative ............................................................ 41
8.1 Novel and film .................................................................................................................. 99
9.1 Summary of focalisation ................................................................................................... 115
9.2 Technical devices .............................................................................................................. 116
9.3 Types of edit ...................................................................................................................... 122
15.1 Triple J news opening ...................................................................................................... 210
15.2 Triple M news opening .................................................................................................... 211
15.3 2UE news opening .......................................................................................................... 212
15.4 2BL 702 news opening .................................................................................................... 213
17.1 Constructing a ‘public idiom’ in news journalism .............................................................. 253
Contributors

Helen Fulton has recently been appointed Professor of English at the University of Wales, Swansea, after teaching for a number of years at the University of Sydney. Her teaching and research areas include grammar, discourse analysis, narrative theory and medieval studies.

Rosemary Huisman is Honorary Associate Professor in the Department of English, University of Sydney, where she was also Head of Semiotics until 2003. Her research brings together contemporary literary, semiotic and linguistic theory in the exploration of textual production and interpretation in different media, discourses and genres. A practising poet, she has also produced major publications on the semiotics of poetry, from Beowulf to contemporary Australian writing.

Julian Murphet lectures in the Department of English, University of Sydney, where he teaches American literature, film and critical theory. He is the author of two books on contemporary American literature, and has published widely in postmodern culture and the interrelations of visual and literary media.

Anne Dunn is Senior Lecturer in the Department of Media and Communications at the University of Sydney. Before embarking on an academic career, she spent more than twenty years in commercial and publicly owned media, as a writer, researcher, journalist, producer, director and manager, including freelance work with magazines and newspapers. She is the current president of the Australian and New Zealand Communication Association.
Acknowledgements

The authors would like to thank the following people and publications who have given permission for work to be reproduced in this book: Australian Women's Weekly; Daily Telegraph (Sydney); Clare Dyer/The Guardian for 'Media will pay for trial collapse'; Lucy Gough, The Mermaid’s Tail, New Idea cover of 6 October 2001; Jon Henley/The Guardian for 'Garcçon! You’re slow, surly and at last you’ve admitted it'; Alec Russell, 'Americans see war as mistake' copyright © Telegraph Group Limited 2004; Ben Sills/Reuters for 'Basque nationalists issue challenge to Madrid'; Sydney Morning Herald; Rhett Watson/Sunday Telegraph (Sydney) for 'Town living in fear over mining deal'; cover of Who magazine, 8 October 2001, reproduced with permission of Who magazine, Time Inc.; Miranda Wood for 'Pregnant women urged to take iodine'.
Narrative and Media applies contemporary narrative theory to media texts, including film, television, radio, advertising and print journalism. Drawing on research in structuralist and post-structuralist theory, as well as functional grammar and image analysis, the book explains the narrative techniques that shape media texts and offers interpretive tools for analysing meaning and ideology. Each section looks at particular media forms and shows how elements such as chronology, character and focalisation are realised in specific texts.